

At the Ward 2 Neighborhood meeting there was a concern expressed about whether a small surface water quality improvement pond intended for the marina area would be ugly. The attached pictures depict such a pond located in Indian Rocks Beach built several years ago. The pond in Indian Rocks differs from that intended for the marina area because it is smaller and does not include an alum system - but shows how such a drainage facility can be compatible with a surrounding neighborhood.

